NewYork-Presbyterian

Weill Cornell Medicine's Department of Psychiatry is seeking Psychiatrists for inpatient attending positions on our general acute care service at NewYork-Presbyterian/Weill Cornell Medical Center. The newly renovated unit will serve a general acute psychiatric population and patients with comorbid medical needs in Complex Intervention Beds in collaboration with Medical Nurse Practitioners and Internists. The successful candidates will work with a multidisciplinary team in the provision of clinical care to patients and provide teaching and supervision to medical students, residents, and other trainees. Depending on the successful applicant's interests, the role may also include providing interventions such as ECT, and ketamine infusion, and collaboration with a clinical research team focused on questions at the intersection of inpatient psychiatry and public health. Positions may also involve rotations on an acute care unit at NYP Westchester Behavioral Health Center in White Plains, NY.

Required Qualifications: Academically oriented physicians with a strong foundation in the assessment and treatment of general psychiatric disorders are encouraged to apply. Candidates must be board certified or board eligible in Psychiatry and possess or be eligible for a New York State license.

Diversity is one of Weill Cornell Medicine's core values and is essential to achieving excellence in patient care, research, and education. We welcome applications from candidates who share our commitment to fostering a culture of fairness, equity, and belonging. Weill Cornell Medicine is an Equal Employment Opportunity Employer, providing equal employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, color, age, religion, protected veteran or disability status, or genetic information.

Anticipated Start Date for Positions: July 1, 2022

Founded in 1898 and affiliated with what is now NewYork-Presbyterian (NYP) since 1927, Weill Cornell Medical College (WCMC) is among the top-ranked clinical and medical research centers in the country.
