

Weill Cornell Medicine

NewYork-Presbyterian

Weill Cornell Medicine's Department of Psychiatry in conjunction with NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital, is currently seeking qualified Psychiatrists for faculty positions in a new Telepsychiatry Service at the NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital/Weill Cornell Medical Center in Manhattan.

Responsibilities include providing telepsychiatry consultation to the emergency rooms and inpatient care settings of NewYork-Presbyterian campuses and regional hospitals. The position entails working in conjunction with psychiatric nurse practitioners at each hospital site. The schedule will be rotating shifts, including nights and weekends, with a three shift per week schedule for full time employment. We offer competitive salary and benefits and there is an opportunity to increase total compensation through extra shift work or participating in our faculty practice. Training in psychosomatic medicine is an asset but not required. Earliest start date is spring of 2019.

Qualified candidates are invited to send a CV and letter of interest to:

Jennifer Walsh
Senior Administrator
Weill Cornell Medical College
Department of Psychiatry
jaw2015@med.cornell.edu

Founded in 1898, and affiliated with what is now NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital (NYPH) since 1927, Weill Cornell Medical College (WCMC) is among the top-ranked clinical and medical research centers in the country. Weill Cornell Medicine's Department of Psychiatry is one of the largest, most prestigious departments in the country, with a long, distinguished history of providing outstanding leadership in clinical care, training, and research in all areas of psychiatric disorders. Our programs in Manhattan and at NewYork-Presbyterian/Westchester are renowned for the range and quality of our inpatient and outpatient specialty programs and general psychiatric services.

Weill Cornell Medical College is an equal opportunity, affirmative action educator and employer.